

Westport Land Conservation Trust
2023 Board of Directors, Members at Large election

Meryl Moss

I was introduced to WLCT when my husband Randy joined the Tuesday Trail Team years ago. He loves to work outside, and it was a perfect fit for him. His enthusiasm for the organization was contagious. We both feel that being connected to nature is important and he served as a true ambassador for WLCT by guiding me on each of the trails. They are all so unique, and I wanted to become an ambassador myself. I wanted to support the organization in any way that I could. I have since volunteered my time on both the finance committee and development committee.

I continue to have a great deal of respect for the work that WLCT does and have only been impressed with everyone involved. Westport is a special place for its proximity to the ocean, its history, and its natural beauty. I hope to continue to share our enthusiasm for the natural environment with others by preserving and stewarding these places for future generations to enjoy. This is our legacy!
